Ms. Neelima G. Gohad for the respondent.

CORAM: S.B.MHASE &
D.B.BHOSALE, JJ.

DATE: MAY 3, 2005.

P.C.

1. Heard both sides. During the pendency of this proceeding in the trial Court, the maintenance at the rate of Rs.2,500/- per month was granted to the applicant for herself and two minor children. While passing the final order, the trial court has granted maintenance at the rate of Rs.750/- per month to each of the minor children only. No permanent alimony is granted to the appellant- wife. It appears that the appellant- wife is possessing flat and getting income by way of rent. However, the liaibility of the father to maintain the minor children continues during their minority. The respondent is a bodily able person working with the State Government. Therefore, taking into consideration the income of the respondent, we find it appropriate that during the pendency of this appeal, the maintenance at the rate of Rs.1,000/- for each of the children is sufficient. Therefore, the respondent shall pay the maintenance to each of the children at the rate of Rs.1,000/- each per month, during the pendency of this appeal.

2. Civil Application is accordingly disposed of in the above terms.
